NUMBER 30.

A YOUNG DEMOCRAT.

IN ACCENTS MILD, SPEAKS OUT IN MEETINGS.

And Says a Few Words Which May Be of Interest to Voters—He Wants One Joe for Congress, and the Rest of the Ticket, Elated.

HIS TRUMPET SHOULD BE HEARD

Mr. SPENCER COOPER, Editor of THE HERALD.—I ask permission for a short space in your very valuable paper to insert a letter containing my views on the subject of Democracy. I do not enter into this subject as one skilled in the affairs of politics, but as one who is a Democrat in all that the word Democrat means. Though I be a mere boy who has never had the honor of casting a single ballot for any man, yet I have a longing for that day when I can stand a peer and cast a ballot against the managers of the Democratic party.

It is reported that G. W. Carson is a candidate on the Republican ticket for County Judge against the sparkling, witty, genial, big-hearted and well-known G. T. Center, the regular Democratic nominee. It surprised me very much to hear that Mr. Carson, a man who knows comparatively little about the transactions of legal affairs, was a candidate for so responsible a position as County Judge. Yes, it is indeed surprising to me (and two-thirds of the voters of this county) to think that Mr. Carson, in his declining years, would have the presumptuous impudence to enter a political arena knowing that there is not a scintilla of a chance for his election.

Fellow Democrats, the Republicans are soliciting your help, your votes, your rights, your liberties! Do you hearken their beckoning? No! I know you too well; I know you are too generous, too loyal, too patriotic and too democratic to be led astray by the political wiles of their wanton ways. I ask the voters of this county to examine the record of the two men from childhood to the present and see which has lived the life most worthy of your admiration and nearer to the benign teachings of Him who taught as never man taught. See which has done most towards the progress of his county, also up the which is the best qualified for the office of County Judge and vote accordingly.

G. T. Center is a man who is as well known in Eastern Kentucky as any name, and the very mention of his name fills every true and patriotic bosom with reverence and pride. Laborer, Taylor Center is your bosom friend. He has proven it. He is the man who has furthest wished you work for the last twelve years when you could not get work to do anywhere else and paid you your own price for every lick you struck. Fellow Democrats, you all know Taylor Center, and know where he lives, but for fear you could not easily find his room, I will give you directions: Enter the room on Main street; go up the hall to the sixth door on the left hand, and on that door knock a time or two and the door will gladly be opened. You will be invited to come in, and in that room you will find Taylor Center, two children, and a very pleasant, handsome looking woman—that woman is Taylor Center's legally wedded wife. I challenge any one to mention truthfully a single immoral act of his life. Can the Republicans say that the life of Mr. Carson has been pure and worthy of emulation?

G. T. Center has always been working for the advancement of everything which is grand and noble, and just as sure as God is in Heaven he will be the next County Judge of Wolfe county.

Fellow Democrats, we have been bulldozed by the Republicans of this county for the past twenty years with George Carson. "We will put George Carson after him,"

"George Carson can beat your nominee," I am thankful that your beloved peer has not beat any Democrat in recent years, and I know that you will see many a sun rise and set, hear many a thunder-clap and endure many hot summers and the cold zephyrs of many winters before your dear brother will be able to "down" a single nominee in this county. He may have been very popular hitherto, but greatly fear that the gentleman has lost his grit, and after the November election he will be politically entombed.

A. T. Combs, Democratic nominee for Sheriff, is as clever a man as ever breathed the pure atmosphere of Eastern Kentucky, and no person in good ever went from his door empty handed. He is as brave as a lion, and as gentle as a lamb. He is booked as a winner, and will make a Sheriff of whom the people of Wolfe county will be proud.

I want all the Democratic nominees elected, but that which should interest us most is that of Congressman to represent this district in the 5th Congress of the United States. Joe M. Kendall, our standard bearer, needs no introduction at my hands. His name is a byword throughout Eastern Kentucky. Almost everybody is for him—men, women and children. I appeal to the young men of this district to rally around the standard and help to elect our gallant Joe by an overwhelming majority. I ask the fathers for the sake of their sons to help carry the grand old banner of Democracy to the highest pinnacle of fame.

With three cheers for our Joe and the rest of the ticket, I am Democratically yours, Tyro. Campton, Oct. 15, '94.

TIRE HIS TROUSERS.

And an Old Show Bill on the Lining Create Great Mischief in School.

The following story is told about the editor of one of Maine's prominent dailies: When a small boy, his father, now one of the leading men of the State, was running a printing office and publishing a weekly paper in one of the largest towns in Kennebec county. One day the advance agent of a show came along and ordered some dates printed upon cotton cloth. His order was filled, but he neglected to call for them and they were left on the printer's hands. The printer's wife ran across them, and as cloth was high she took it home and for economy used it to line a pair of trousers she was then making for the editor above mentioned, then a boy about ten years of age. As the months rolled by the pantaloons grew threadbare, and at school one day he accidentally tore the seat out, leaving about one foot of the lining exposed to view. This in itself would have made the boys smile, but they laughed till the tears came when they observed the following words standing out boldly upon the lining in large type: "Doors open at 7:30. Performance begins at 8."

At Cost.—Mrs. F. N. Day will close out her entire line of summer hats and trimmings at less than cost rather than carry them over, and now is your chance to buy bargains. Ladies' trimmed hats can now be had at from 50¢ to $1.50. Give her a call.

One man in the Kentucky penitentiary, who has been there about five years, has now as his companions in misery six of his jury men who sent him there.

J. M. Havens, jeweler, has located in Hazel Green and will be found at the store of John M. Rose. Bring your watches and fine jewelry to him for repairs. He is a first-class workman and guarantees his work at the most reasonable prices.

It is as much a man's duty to support his county paper as it is to support a church or an institution of learning. A newspaper may well be said to be the life of a town.

LAND FRAUDS.

HOW SEVERAL MAGOFFIN COUNTY OFFICERS ROBBED THE STATE.

Fictitious Land Assessed, Sold for Taxes, Recorded and Fees Charged—State Inspector Gardner Catches on to the Swindlers.

ANOTHER SWINDLE ATTEMPTED.

State Inspector and Examiner Gardner made a report on the 10th inst. concerning his investigation of the books of several Magoffin county officers. The fictitious land assessment scheme, it will be seen, has been worked thoroughly there, and the officers are shown up in a bad light. The Inspector's report, which will likely lead to the indictment of all the parties, is addressed to the Governor, and is as follows: "I have the honor to further report that since making my report to you on the fraudulent assessment and sales of so-called non-resident lands in Magoffin county, I have procured the affidavits of some of the citizens of the county for the purpose of ascertaining the real parties to the fraud, and respectfully submit the following statement:

"The facts, as far as I am ascertain, will show that the scheme was originated by Calloway Howard in 1891 or 1892, who was then the Circuit Court Clerk of the county. He suggested the plan and prepared a list of fictitious lands, which were assessed for the year 1892 by the Assessor at a valuation of $150 per acre, and followed the matter before the Board of County Supervisors and succeeded in getting the value raised to $2 per acre. The Assessor's claim for assessing these fictitious lands was allowed, the Sheriff sold and purchased it for the State, the County Clerk recorded the sales and they were each paid by the State for the work, and the fraud was, therefore, successfully accomplished for 1892 and not discovered.

"In November of the same year (1892), Howard's brother-in-law, Noah Minnix, was elected Sheriff of the county, qualified with Howard as his chief deputy, and collected the revenue for 1893, which is, or appears to be, the secret of the motive that prompted Howard to set the fraud on foot. He had the Sheriff's office in view, and well knew the profits that the office would derive from the sale of these fraudulent lands.

"In 1893, Howard and his brother-in-law being in full possession of the Sheriff's office, where they would be beneficiaries of the fraud, and John W. Hammond, County Court Clerk, seeing that it was profitable to him to have the sales to record, joined Howard in continuing the fraud for this year (1893) by preparing a list of fictitious lands for assessment on a much more extensive scale than before, and the Assessor, knowing it was fraudulent, declined to place it on his books, but on completion of the assessment of the property of the county returned the fraudulent list with his books to the County Court Clerk, and when the Board of Supervisors of the county convened the County Clerk delivered the books of the Assessor to them, as the law requires, also the list of fictitious lands that he had fraudulently certified to the Assessor, and he and Howard, in some getting it entered on the Assessor's books at a valuation of $5 per acre.

As a matter of course, County Clerk Hammond and Deputy Sheriff Howard knew when this land was placed on the Assessor's books that it would have to be sold by the Sheriff and the sales recorded by the Clerk. Out of the job the Sheriff received $952 commission for making the sales, and the County Clerk was allowed $109.75 for recording them, the payment of which has been very properly refused by the Auditor.

"The Assessor is very illiterate, and had to depend entirely on the advice and assistance of others to aid him in the discharge of the duties of his office, and was led into the fraud through ignorance by the County Clerk and Deputy Sheriff Howard.

"For 1893, the first year of Howard's term as Deputy Sheriff, the county was assessed at a total valuation of $4,439,496; since the detection of the fraud the county has been assessed for 1894 at a total valuation of $835,936, a falling off in value of $3,603,560.

"I will give you one instance as a sample of the manner in which these offices are conducted. A non-resident bona fide owner of a tract of land listed it in 1892, paid the taxes and the land was sold and bought in for the State and the Sheriff credited by the sale. It was again listed and sold to the State for the 1893 tax on October 28, 1893, and the Sheriff credited by the amount in his settlement, and while the Sheriff has no right after the sale to collect the redemption money, yet on February 26, 1894, he wrote the party: "The amount of taxes now due on your 250-acre tract of land in this county for 1893 amounts to $95.50. Will be glad to receipt you for the same."

"On March 14, 1894, he again wrote same party, saying: "The statement of taxes given by me is a true one, as shown by the records of my office; it includes fees, costs, etc.," when in fact the taxes, including all costs of sale, were $6.88. It appears from the same letter that County Clerk Hammond had collected some taxes and failed to account for them, and the Sheriff goes on to say in his letter: "I will see John W. Hammond at once about said taxes, and show him the mistake he has made. I will at first write the Auditor of Kentucky about the matter. I will see that he pays said taxes over at once or return the money to you. We have laws in this county for the protection of each, and it is my duty to see that they are enforced, and I will see that your money is paid over to the State or back to you. Now, before doing this, I would like for you to appoint me your agent or manager to take charge of your land, and if you have not got an abstract I will get one up for you in type. I will do all this and send you a plat of your land, and so see this land and examine same, the timber, etc., for one year for $15 in advance. I will assist you in making sale of said land. All the Magoffin county lands are good farming lands, underlaid with good coal. We have a good prospect for a railroad in this county, which, if we get, will cross over one corner or near your land to see that they are enforced, and I will see that your money is paid over to the State or back to you. CLOSE OF THE CRIMEAN WAR.

Date of the Treaty of Peace and How Brave Deeds Were Recorded.

The formerly ratified treaty of peace was brought to London by William Stuart, first attaché to the British embassy at Paris, on April 29, 1856. Sunday May 4, was observed as a day of general thanksgiving to Almighty God for the preservation of peace and on Monday the 5th, it was formally proclaimed in London, with the usual solemnities. Addresses to the crown, approving of the peace, were carried in both houses of parliament on the evening of that day; and on the 8th both houses cordially voted "thanks to the army, navy and marines employed in the operations of the late war." The feelings entertained toward the men who fought and bled in the Crimea by the queen, the government and the people of England are also placed on record in an excellent dispatch of Lord Panmure's, which will be perpetuated as long as the language exists.

"Since the period," said the noble secretary of war, "when the army first quitted the shores of England, there has been no vicissitude of war which it has not been called upon to encounter. It was assailed by cholera shortly after its arrival in Turkey. Then was proved that moral as well as physical courage pervaded its ranks. Led to the field, it triumphed in engagements, in which heavy odds were on the enemy's side. It carried on, under difficulties almost incredible, a siege of unprecedented duration, in the course of which the trying duties of the trenches, privations from straitened supplies, and the fearful diminution of its numbers from disease neither shook its courage nor impaired its discipline. Notwithstanding that many of its gallant officers fell in their ranks, and they were called to mourn the gallant commander who led them from England, and who closed in the field his noble career as a soldier, her majesty's troops, never flinched from their duties, nor disappointed the sanguine hopes of their country."

BLEACHING DIAMONDS.

Trick by Which South African Dealers Deceive Buyers.

The discovery of diamonds in South Africa led indirectly to some clever deceit by the dealers, says the Pall Mall Gazette. Many of the South African diamonds have a straw tint, which has an unfavorable effect on their price, especially as experts believe it will become more decided as the longer the stones are exposed to the air. Some of the more knowing dealers discovered that by subjecting the straw-tinted diamonds to both of certain acids the objectionable color very removed and the gems become priceless. A number of diamonds so treated were sold in Paris and Berlin, and brought higher prices than they would if they had retained their original color.

After exposure to the action of the alkali for a certain time the original color returns, but by that time they have passed out of the dealer's hands. The fraud was soon found out by the trade, and they now guard against impositions of such a character by means of various tests. Of these the most generally used are the hot water bath or friction. If a dyed stone be left in hot water a few minutes it resumes its original hue; or, if the gem be rubbed sharply on a towel, or even on the coat sleeve, its normal color can be detected. These tests are simple and efficacious and are in daily use.

AN EGYPTIAN CUSTOM.

It Mystified Herodotus, But Modern Investigation Fully Explains It.

More than one thousand years ago Herodotus observed a remarkable custom in Egypt, says Prof. Prætorius. At a certain season of the year, says the Washington Post, the Egyptians went into the desert, out for branches from the wild palm, and, having these back to their girdles, waved them over the flowers of the date palm. Why they performed this ceremony they did not know, but they knew that if they neglected it the date crop would be poor or wholly lost.

Herodotus offers the quaint explanation that along with these branches there came from the desert certain flies possessed of a "virile virtue" which somehow lent an exuberant fertility to the dates. But the true rationale to the incantation is now explained. Palm trees, like human beings, are male and female. The garden plants, the date bearers, were males, and the waving of the branches over the females meant the transference of the fertilizing pollen from one to the other.

The men would look pretty with hoes acrossed around their shirt necks, and it would be a great saving in laundry bills.

SALUTED A WHALE.

Exchange of Courtesies Between a Steamship and an Ocean Monster.

El Norte is a steamship which swings between this port and New Orleans with regularity. The reports of strange marine happenings which her officers make are about as uniform. Not long ago she found her way into the newspapers, when Chief Officer Houston told about a fleet of phantom schooners which he had observed riding in the atmosphere off Cape Hatteras.

The boat got into harbor the other day with some observations about whales recorded in her logbook. Capt. Hawthorne is skipper of the craft, but he does not come into this story at all. The second officer, who will have nothing to do with that sort of distinction which is given by printers' ink, says that El Norte was logging along, ascending to her own business, when a big whale suddenly appeared directly ahead and about one mile away. The locality is given as eight miles south-east by south of the Southeast Lightship.

His whalship, the second officer said, headed directly for El Norte and was swimming through the water at a rate that would have been the envy of a torpedo boat.

There are some international rules about the conduct of craft that are about to meet head on, but collisions with whales have not been discussed. The second officer was therefore at a loss to know just what to do. The whale relieved his perplexity by putting his tail to starboard and going spinning past the steamship.

He spotted three times as he went by and, not to be outdone in courtesy, the ship dipped her flag three times in acknowledgment of the salute.

The whale dived, reappeared again and then headed down the coast, probably to fill an engagement as sea serpent of Long Branch. The engines of El Norte, which had been slowed down to sub again and the rest of the story is not worth printing.—N. Y. Times.

A MISTAKEN HOST.

It Did the Appearance Act All Right, But Made a Mistake.

"Some people are always having premonitions," said a Cincinnati man recently, "and I always make it a point to steer clear of such uncanny folk. I never laid but one, and as that ended in nothing at all, I am always ready to tell it to people when I hear them talking about their superstitions. One hot summer afternoon I went to my room to lie down. I had no disposition to sleep, and in fact was never wider awake in my life. The rest of the family were all in a distant part of the house. As I lay there alone, trying to look off, there suddenly appeared at the open door an object that seemed like my idea of what the angel of death would be. It approached the bed on which I lay, and plainer than words could ever say, I heard, said in a hollow, but perfectly audible voice: 'I will not take you now. I will call you September 27.' Then it disappeared as suddenly as it came. I arose from the bed with great beads of perspiration running down my face, and must confess that I was thoroughly scared, but I had sense enough not to relate my experience to any of the family until after the day set by the object of my taking off. It so happened that on September 27 I was passing down the hall, and I saw a man, and I freely acknowledge that I felt a good deal shaky until the day was numbered among the things of the past. Years have passed since then, and now I am a pretty lively specimen yet. What was the apparition? I am sure I don't know, and have long since given up trying to explain it. But try to tell me that it was a dream, for I was as wide awake at the time as I am at this minute; besides I have the arrows that were laid across my breast securely locked up in a trunk at home."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Returned a Multi-Millionaire.

Henry C. Moore, formerly of Corinth, Miss., has just reached Mobile, Ala., from Egypt. Eight years ago he left Mississippi a penniless and inexperienced youth, possessing nothing but grit and love of adventure. He returns a multi-millionaire. He has made three trips entirely around the continent since leaving his native State and finally settled in South Africa.

He drove a trade with an African king for two tracts of mineral land of 70 square miles each at a nominal price. Last spring he sold one of them to the South African Mining Company for $1,000,000 cash. He has just sold the other to an English syndicate for $1,500,000, and is enroute to England to close the deal. He will take two of his Alabama nieces, Misses Coffe and Moore with him. He gave them $50,000 each as a present.

Put Out in Just Ten Seconds.

Our citizens to the number of two or three hundred gathered on the burnt district here, on last Monday afternoon at two o'clock, to witness the exhibition made by the Cincinnati Tin and Japan Fire Extinguisher Co. The test was given under the personal supervision of Mr. Herman B. Wells, president of the company, of Cincinnati, and Mr. V. V. Snyder, the local agent, of Georgetown, Ohio, and was satisfactory in every respect, clearly demonstrating the Stemple Extinguisher to be one of the best methods yet devised or invented for the controlling of fire.

A structure of pine boards was built, and after being thoroughly saturated with kerosene, a match was applied. The extinguisher was then turned on and the fire put out in about ten seconds. All who witnessed the test were thoroughly satisfied that the Stemple will do all and more than is claimed for it. The headquarters of the company are S. E. Cor. Sycamore and Canal Sts., Cincinnati.—Whelan (Ohio) Herald.

The Discussion Was Adjourned.

"I hate to see a woman with rings in her ears!" exclaimed the good deacon; "they ain't natural. If it was intended for women to wear them she would have been born with holes in her ears. The first woman didn't wear rings, I'll be bound."

"No," remarked the quiet little man in the corner, "nor nothing else."

The discussion was adjourned without delay.

Jim and Fitz Will Fight for $11,000.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons have been matched to fight to a finish at the Florida Athletic Club, Jacksonville, Florida, for a purse of $11,000 and $10,000 a side, any time after July 1, 1895. It will probably take in the fall of next year, and the date is left to the choice of the club.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar cough. How Starch Would It Be?

If you should take a horse to a blacksmith and tell him that you wanted him shod all round, and that you would give him 1 cent for the first nail driven then double the amount for each nail until the horse is shod, what would the amount be?

The merchant who does not advertise may keep on hand—that is what he will do—a good stock of goods; but buyers do not know it, and they go elsewhere.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious.

A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a lame leg or other ailment relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by John M. Rose.

"Hello, Jack!" remarked Boreas. "Call me John," responded J. Frost. "Every advanced woman who writes a novel nowadays has a hero named Jack, and I just don't want to be classed with such a crowd."

HAIL FORMED BY TORNADOES.

The Result of Whirlwinds in the Atmosphere Far Above the Earth.

The fact that hail is formed at an indefinite but, in most cases, a great height above the surface of the earth, and that it is commonly precipitated when storms are raging, has prevented any direct observation of the process of freezing the vapor of the atmosphere into ice pellets of large masses, and what has been deduced regarding the phenomena of hailstorms is almost wholly the work of theory and logic. Nevertheless some points are pretty clearly established.

In the first place, hail is the result, as a rule, of whirling or tornado-like storms. There may be no whirling on the surface of the earth but, according to the Cleveland Leader, it seems certain that in the higher regions of the air, where hail is formed, there is always an atmospheric disturbance resembling what is commonly called a cyclone when it sweeps the ground. A curious indication of the soundness of this conclusion was to be noted the other afternoon, when the storm which wrought such havoc with skylights had passed by. That over the lake there was a great mass of cloud, very high and dark, which had the form of an oval race track of enormous proportions. It might easily have been ten miles in length and twenty miles in distance in width. The formation of the cloud mass was noticeably such as might have resulted from the violent whirling around a racing center of the whole bulk of cloud vapor. The appearance of the sky was thoroughly in harmony with the accepted theory of the formation of hail. It is believed that the nucleus of a large hailstone is usually a bit of snow or snow-like ice, which falls from the snow strata, or level, above the rain level, into the latter, and is caught up with a cloud of raindrops and mists into the higher, freezing regions of the atmosphere by the force of a whirlwind. The rain and water in the form of mist, which clings to the snow nucleus, or touches it as it whirled swiftly up into the intense cold, freezes around it as clear and solid ice.

HOOKED A BEE MARTEN.

He Was Fishing for Trout, But Got a Hike of Another Sort.

"A strange thing happened to me when I was trout fishing last year up in northern New York," said Andrew Bishop, of Bridgeport, Conn., to a Washington Star man. "The fish were very wary, the stream was narrow, and the pools were but lightly bordered with bushes or cover of any kind, consequently when I would reach a promising looking spot I would get as far from the bank as possible, and at the same time be able to drop my fly over the water. Had followed this plan with poor success, getting only one or two strikes in as many hours, when suddenly my line began to run out with a whirl. No trout had ever carried off a fly for me in such a way before, and I was nonplussed, but in a moment I saw that it was not a fish that was making my reel spin. Rising from the surface of the stream and flying above it was a bee marten which had grabbed my fly as I cast it over the bank, and he was making away with it. The bird soon had nearly all my line out, and not caring to lose it, I began to play him as I would play a fish. He struggled gamely, I tell you, but the hook had caught in his beak and held him firmly. At last, after a full hour of fighting, the bird fluttered helplessly to the ground, and I released him. You may think that's a fish story, but it's true."

The Wife Will Not Again Trouble Anybody for a Spoon of Silk.

One summer the wife of a Chicago man went to one of the resorts. At the end of a week she found that her black silk had given out, so she wrote her husband to "find a spoon of it in the lower drawer of the bureau" and send it on. The dutiful husband did as he was told, and she found a spoon of black silk under her plate at the place where she took her first meal, and ever since then she has been fond of a spoon of silk, even to Europe. Wherever she may stop she finds the spoon at her plate or on her dresser. She has learned the lesson.

ECHOES OF THE FAIR.

The firemen of Walla Walla, Wash., have elected as "honorary members" the firemen who perished in the cold storage fire in Chicago.

Chicago street cars carried 94,000,000 persons during the six months of the existence of the world's fair. On October 9, Chicago day, they carried 562,000 people.

The temple which was such a conspicuous part of the Ceylon exhibit at the world's fair, was recently sold at auction for $9,500. Its value is estimated at $25,000. It will be fitted up as a summer cottage at Lake Geneva, Wis.

COLUMBIA RIVER SALMON.

How the Chinese Workmen Cut Out the Salmon and Cook the Fish.

"On a recent trip to the Pacific coast," said Walter Stebbins, a New York drummer, to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, "I paid a visit to one of the largest canning factories in Oregon, where the Columbia river salmon are packed and shipped all over the country. It was a novel sight to me, and one which I took a great deal of interest in. The fish are caught in nets and carried in boats to the factory, where they are thrown upon a stage, and lie in heaps, a thousand or so in a pile. You can see huge fish among them that weigh from thirty to sixty pounds. One Chinaman will seize a salmon, and with a dextrous blow of a knife, sever its head with one stroke, and another workman then grabs it and cuts off the fins and scales. The fish is then thrown into a vat, where the blood soaks out, and I tell you they bleed like a stuck pig. After receiving a washing from a cold water faucet, the fish are placed into large tin cans, the bones first being removed. The tops of the cans which have a small hole in them, are then soldered on and five or six hundred of them at a time are plunged into boiling water, where they remain until the heat has expelled all the air. Then the little airholes in the top of the tin is soldered up and the salmon is ready for market."

BRITISH "DRUMMERS."

Some Minor Differences from the American Commercial Traveler.

The commercial traveler in England is quite different from his American brother, pursuing the same line of policy in "getting there" so far as securing trade is concerned, says Hardware. His invariable rule, however, is that his first preference is to a local agent, his last and only one. There is no roving in the morning with an offer, and then in the afternoon with an extra inducement to make the trade. This being the favorable rule, it saves much labor and apprehension in the mind of the buyer that he has not done so well as he could have done with more diplomacy.

Everything is done for the comfort of the traveler, and at the hotels a special department called the commercial room is set apart for his exclusive use. In this room smoking is prohibited until nine p. m., a place being devoted to that purpose at other times. The traveler takes his meals in the commercial room, the dinner being served at five in which all travelers in the house generally participate. The oldest man is at the head of the table, and is called the president while at the foot is the youngest man, and he is termed vice president.

Wilhelm's Title. The actual title of Wilhelm II. is "German Emperor and King of Prussia." The German emperor is a confederacy confederacy of five kingdoms, five grand duchies, five duchies, seven principalities and four free cities. Wilhelm II. overthrew each of these sovereignties, except as this may and its power of ending money and imposing duties in which matters the imperial government controls, as well as in all international matters.

BRIEF, VALUABLE HINTS.

T. E. said that cucumber peels will kill mosquitoes.

New machines are excellent to clean discolored table ware.

To REMOVE egg stains on silver, rub with salt on a damp cloth.

Water standing in a room is a good disinfectant, as it absorbs all impurities.

BLEACHED sponges are the safest to use, as the bleaching process disinfects them.

POTATOES cooked in the skins contain more nutriment than if peeled before boiling.

STEEL knives may be cleansed by rubbing with a raw potato dipped in fine brick dust.

FOR nausea scorch some rice, pour boiling water over it and drink as hot as possible.

LIBRARIES OF THE WORLD.

THERE are 1,700,000 volumes credited to the British museum, giving it second place.

FIRST on the list in point of size is the Bibliothéque Nationale in Paris, with 2,225,000 volumes.

The Berlin library and the Imperial library of Russia are about equal, each owning 1,000,000 volumes.

The library of congress contains 65,000 bound volumes and 230,000 pamphlets, being the fifth largest in the world.

The new national library building at Washington, to be completed in three years, will cost $5,000,000. Forty miles of shelves of steel, costing $90,000, will be used.

The Fire is Smouldering

And will soon die out. There is plenty of fuel on, but the ashes and clinkers have clogged the drafts. Shake out the debris, thus opening the drafts, and the fire will burn again with all its normal vigor. Exactly so with the human system.

John W. Armstrong, D. O. L. D., President of New York State Normal School, after recovering from

LINGERING SICKNESS of general debility, writes Dr. Fenners: "Your Blood and Liver Tonic and Nerve Tonic had such an excellent effect in expediting my recovery. I want another bottle."

Dr. Fenners' Blood and Liver Tonic and Nerve Tonic never fails.

It is a Sarsaparilla-Mandrake-Prince's Pine Alternative, Nerve Tonic and Restorative Compound.

Cures biliousness, headaches, constipation, dyspepsia, irritability, sleeplessness "the blues," sweated glands.

All blood impurities, skin diseases, scurvy, ague, dizziness, "dull and aching," "dried" stomach and bowel disorders, blotches, pimples, moles, syphilis.

Impairment of nerves, offensive breath. It does these great cures because it purifies the blood, liver and tissues of all the impurities, "ashes and debris" as it were.

Without weakening but all the while strengthening instead.

It cleans the Liver to throw off its bile. It cleans out the entire alimentary canal, stomach and bowels alike, ridding them of all effete, offensive and slimy mucus, worms and other vermin.

Restoring sleep, appetite, flesh, strength, comfort, freshness and bloom—in a word health.

Including self-poison to the nervous system, and both sweetness of breath and disposition.

It is speedy in its action, improvement beginning as soon as the first dose is swallowed.

And as certain as the law of gravitation. Note the high standard of testimonials in circular at drug stores and around bottles.

They are such as only the highest order or merit could command—voluntary offerings from the cottage, princely palaces and offices of State.

Recording cases of more grave and complicated than ever hervore successfully treated by medicine.

Vice-President Stevenson spoke to a crowd of 1,500 people at Paris, Ill., on Monday afternoon. He is putting in every day for Democratic success, and has large crowds wherever he goes.

Fears are entertained by shipping men of Port Townsend, Wash., that the steamer Ivanhoe has been lost off Cape Flattery, as wreckage was seen near that place and she is over twenty days out from Seattle.

Col. Limont, Secretary of War, is responsible for the announcement that President Cleveland desires the election of Senator David B. Hill as Governor of New York. If this be true, Mr. Cleveland is even a bigger man than the country gives him credit of being, as he smoothes persons! feeling for party success.

Within the last week William B. Allison, William McKinley, Thos. B. Reed and David B. Hill have been "cheered as the next President." There would be something alarming in this were it not for the fact that there is a wide difference between being "cheered as the next President" and being the next President.

Gov. McKinley will address the people of New Orleans on the 20th inst., and the subject of his harangue will doubtless be: "The Hardships of the Louisiana Sugar Planter Since the Democratic Party Cut Off His Bounty." As they only got about $20,000,000 from the dear people last year, they are now in sore distress.

John Sherman said a few days since: "I am not now and never was an extreme protectionist." An impression prevails that the McKinley law was the culmination of extreme protection in this country, and that those who framed, supported and enacted it were extreme protectionists, but the Senator appears to have exclusive information that they were not. "No duties," he continued, "should be levied for protection that are not needed for revenue." Formal commendation of the Ohio Governor's tariff cannot take the sting out of this.

A QUESTION OF FIGURES.

A Card to the Voters of Morgan County.
GENTLEMEN:—According to the official settlements made by the Sheriff, on record in the office of the County Clerk, the tax levies for COUNTY PURPOSES during the past four years are:

1901.....	$ 7,704 92
1902.....	6,990 25
1903.....	1,076 82
1904.....	7,070 00

Total..... $29,941 09
From such levies there have been paid out the sum of $2,600 on account of the new jail, and $12,000 on account of the bridges across Licking River and Elk Fork, making a total of $14,600 of extraordinary expenditures, an average of $3,650 for such four years and leaving a balance of $15,282 for usual expenses, or an average of $3,820 per year. With the levy lately made the extra expenses of the county are ended, on improvements already made, and the county will be out of debt.

On the basis of an exactly similar rate and valuation for the future as in 1893 and 1894, and not allowing for an increase of any kind in either taxable property or adult male population, the poll tax and county levy would produce each year a county revenue of $7,670. Deducting from that sum the amount of the average extraordinary county expenses during the past four years, there would remain a surplus in the treasury of $4,005 per year.

A proposition is to be voted on at the election, on the 6th of November as to whether or not the Fiscal Court shall be authorized to issue county bonds of $25,000 for bridge purposes. By some the objection is made that such indebtedness would "ruin the county."

I offer for your consideration some calculations, which prove that without any increase in our taxes, and without any addition to the taxable property or population of our county we can, on the basis of an average of the first four years, pay off the principal and interest of $25,000 of bonded indebtedness within nine years after the time the bonds would begin to carry interest, and have left in the county treasury nearly $2,000 in money.

FIRST.—The county revenue would be $7,670 per year.

SECOND.—The ordinary county expenses would be $3,820 per year.

THIRD.—This would leave a surplus in the county treasury of $3,850 per year.

FOURTH.—The interest on $25,000 issue of bonds at the rate of 6 per cent would be $1,500.

FIFTH.—Deducting the $1,500 interest money from the $3,850 of surplus would leave a balance of $2,350.

Now if this balance should be applied to paying off the bonds after two years, the result would be:

1st Year—Cash payment.....	$2,350
Interest on $2,350.....	141
2d Year—Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $1,000 of bonds.....	$1,841

3d Year—Surplus.....	841
Interest on surplus.....	50
Reduced bond interest.....	240
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $3,000 of bonds.....	$1,348

4th Year—Surplus.....	$ 481
Interest on surplus.....	29
Reduced bond interest.....	420
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $3,000 of bonds.....	$1,280

5th Year—Surplus.....	$ 280
Interest on surplus.....	17
Reduced bond interest.....	600
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $3,000 of bonds.....	$5,247

6th Year—Surplus.....	$ 247
Interest on surplus.....	15
Reduced bond interest.....	780
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $3,000 of bonds.....	$5,302

7th Year—Surplus.....	$ 302
Interest on surplus.....	23
Reduced bond interest.....	1,140
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $3,000 of bonds.....	$5,725

8th Year—Surplus.....	$ 725
Interest on surplus.....	43
Reduced bond interest.....	1,140
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off $4,000 of bonds.....	4,330

9th Year—Surplus.....	$ 230
Interest on surplus.....	13
Reduced bond interest.....	1,390
Cash payment.....	2,350
Pay off last $2,000 of bonds and there remains for the county a surplus of $1,775.	$1,775

The above is not a theory, but a matter of mathematics, based on existing facts, and it is not open to argument or adverse criticism, excepting as to whether there are errors in the calculations.

And it must be remembered that these bonds are not to be issued unless we secure twenty-six miles of main line of railroad in our county, and the bonds or the cost derived from their sale is not to be delivered until after such railroad is completed and in operation.

Now having demonstrated that Morgan county, unaided, could pay off the $25,000 in nine years, I propose to show you next week what the results would be if the railroad was in operation, and the coal mines being worked.

To be ready to appreciate the force and effect of my next "Question of Figures," I request you to familiarize yourselves with the following, taken from the official records:

VALUATION OF MORGAN COUNTY.
1901.....	$1,479,569.00
1902.....	1,500,702.00
1903.....	1,504,903.00
1904.....	1,520,000.00

LEVIES FOR COUNTY TAXES.
1901.....	$7,704 92
1902.....	6,990 25
1903.....	7,516 82
1904.....	7,070 00

which include the poll tax.

LEVIES FOR STATE TAXES.
1901.....	$6,214.19
1902.....	6,592.75
1903.....	5,515.81
1904.....	5,312.50

TAXES FOR MORGAN COUNTY.
1901.....	$15,919.11
1902.....	13,582.99
1903.....	13,122.63
1904.....	12,982.50

Section 174 of the new constitution reads:

"All property whatever, owned by natural persons or corporations shall be taxed in proportion to its value, unless exempted by this constitution; and all corporate property shall pay the same rate of taxation paid by individual property."

I am sincere in advocating the issue of these bridge bonds, under a contract that will protect the rights and interests of the county, because of my belief, after investigation, that Morgan county will be greatly benefited if the Ohio & Kentucky railroad is built.

If it can be proven to me that it would damage our county to have such railroad on the proposed terms, I would be as much in opposition as I am now strongly in favor of our aid in building bridges that could be used jointly by the general public and the railroad, with the total future cost of maintenance and repair to be paid by the railroad company.

So far there has not been a logical objection presented why every voter should not be in favor of authorizing our Fiscal Court to issue the $25,000 of bonds, should they decide to incur such indebtedness. Your fellow-citizen,

W. W. MCGUIRE.

THE LANGUAGE WE SPEAK.

The English is to become universal. It is increasing, it is estimated, fully 2,000,000 annually.

THIRTY centuries ago less than 3,000,000 people spoke the English tongue.

It is all parts of the globe over 15,000,000 people at the present time employ it.

Of this the United States claims 65,000,000; British Islands 35,000,000 and Canada 10,000,000.

WATER LINGUA, British Guiana, etc., 1,200,000; Australasia, 4,000,000; South Africa, India and other colonies, 2,500,000.

Twenty hundred years ago the English-speaking people resided principally on the British Isles; now English is spoken more or less in nearly every country.

REMEMBER ME, OH GOD.

Remember me, oh God!—without Thy Father's care
 'Twere misery to live;
 My ransom art my daily fare,
 'Tis Thou, God, dost give.
 Remember me when dark and gloomy night
 Comes on,
 And I would bid me down to rest—
 When I am lost in sleep, and consciousness
 Is gone,
 Then watchest best.
 Remember me when unseen dangers do impend,
 Dangers that threaten life and soul;
 When trials and temptations rise, be Thou
 My friend—
 Guard me through all.
 Remember me when sickness racks my mortal frame,
 And pain, like arrows, dart through members, then—[it then not hear, when I truth exclaim,
 "I trust in Thee?"
 Remember me when once my breath, my feeble breath,
 Shall cease to vitalize my blood;
 When my weak heart is mute in the embrace of death,
 Be Thou my God!

(H. J. Beverly, M. D.)

APHORISMS.

The biggest liar on earth is a hypocrite.
 The ugliest man on earth is a drunken sot.
 The meanest man on earth is a stingy man.
 The man who gets stuck on himself
 will be badly stuck.
 The biggest fool on earth is the one who thinks himself wise.
 There never was but one unselfish man on earth, and he got to live only thirty-three years.
 Some people put more starch and powders on their faces than they are worth if wild at their real value.
 The ugliest woman on earth is one that tattles, chews and smokes tobacco, drinks whiskey and plays the harlot.
 A toad man may bridle his tongue,
 but the toad man loses her bridle and then some body gets the "devil."
 Some people think they are so pretty and so smart that they can't sit still during religious worship. God pity such fools!
 The man who is the most disgusting and least useful far, and one the world can do best without, is a spider-legged dude in trousers.
 I hate that word "we," because it kept Moses and Aaron out of the "promised land." Hated is devilish, while love is angelic. Our amount of love to God is known by the amount of work we do for him.
 It's a sight to see, taste, hear, smell and feel the railroad question in Morgan county. The Morgan Messenger is just blubbering, bawling, bawling, flailing, buzzing, spitting, spouting and spouting, and calling "righteous." A blind Bartemus just like little things do when he hearing and bustling of the money dode bag begins his diddle daddle dode bag song. But Messenger will know who is the blind Bartemus when the election comes on.

SHORT SEER.

How Cloves Grow.

The small evergreen tree from which cloves are taken was originally a native of the Spice Islands, but it is now cultivated in warm climates in all parts of the world. The clove of commerce is the unopened flower of the tree. They are quite small, but grow in large clusters among the branches.
 After gathering, the buds are smoked by a wood fire and dried in the sun.
 Both the taste and smell of the cloves depend on the quantity of oil they contain. Sometimes the oil is separated from the cloves before they are sold, and the odor and taste are in consequence much weakened. If you desire to know something of the form of the bud in the natural state, soak a few cloves for a short time in hot water.
 The petals of the flower will soften and readily unroll.

Photographs of "Lip-Speech."

What is regarded as the greatest triumph of the photographer was the recent successful experiment by Prof.
 graphs of "lip-speech." By making successive negatives of the movements of the lips of a rapid talker he managed to arrange photographs printed under them in such a manner that deaf-mutes who were familiar with "lip-speech" could plainly interpret every word that the speaker had uttered.

CANBY is worth perhaps $1,000,000,
 amassed in politics and in law.
 MARGERY RICHIE's fortune is estimated at $5,000,000 francs.
 LEON HIRSH, the colonial minister, is said to be worth $500,000 per year.

BROWN GOT THE MONUMENT.

And as He Had Been a Good Fellow, the Boys Said He Deserved It.

At a little settlement on the Indian river, Florida, before the railroad was built, lived a penniless, good hearted fellow of the name of John Brown.
 When Brown got any money he would divide it to the last cent with his friends among the boys, and of course the boys liked him. One day the boys found Brown dead in the woods. They dug him a grave, rolled him in a horse blanket and let him down in it and then drank several bottles of east-coast hitters to his health and expressed the hope that whatever new climate he was in he would be healthy.

Some time later than that a stranger came among them. He died and, as the weather was too warm to ship his body off, he was buried next to Brown. A week or two passed and the relatives of the deceased stranger sent down money to erect a monument over the grave of the stranger.

The boys took the thing in hand and discussed it around camp. They came to the conclusion that Brown was a "durned" skit better fellow in every way than the stranger and more entitled to a monument, so one night they went out and swapped the stone

SHARPS ON THE DEEP.

Poker Players Who Swindle Ocean Travelers.

The Atlantic Steamers are a fruitful field for the crooked poker players.
 Here is a specimen of the way this game is worked: A well-known New Yorker told the story, but stipulated that the name of the victim was to be suppressed.

"A certain New York millionaire," he said, "who is known to be more or less susceptible to the blandishments of women, was crossing the Atlantic on a Canadian. A lovely woman made his acquaintance, which, you know, is the easiest thing in the world on shipboard. They became very friendly and she introduced him to her husband. I don't know whether he was really her husband, but he passed as such for that trip. At all events.

"This husband was one of the compliment sort. He offered no objection when the millionaire flirted desperately with his wife."

"The millionaire, thinking it would pay him to stand in with the husband," willingly acquiesced. When a game of poker was suggested. Of course, the husband had a few friends, who were also in the game.

"Well, they used to play every night
 on that trip and a large part of the day.
 The susceptible millionaire dropped a pile of money—how much I don't know —but he paid very dearly for his susceptibility that trip."

TOOK A MEAN ADVANTAGE.

The Engaged Man Indulged on Kissing His Fiancee in a Street Car.

A young man and a young woman climbed from a Bell line to a fourteenth street car at the avenue, Washington, and sat in one of the seats in the first car. He was carrying an overcoat and a satchel and was evidently going away. She wore a skirt waist and a dark skirt, as if starting out on a shopping expedition. Just before they reached Sixth street he leaned over her and said, quietly, so quietly that only the Post reporter back of them could hear: "I am going to kiss you good-by when I leave the car."

"Oh, please don't," she said, appealingly, "but before all these people."
 But he was decided and said, persistently: "Yes I shall, so raise your veil.
 If you try to resist, people will see it and wonder about it, and they will look at you all the way up-town after I get off."

She glanced up shyly and then slowly raised her veil. He bent over her and kissed her and no one in the car looked up. A few people wondered why she was so anxious to show the diamond ring on her left hand, but naturally the reporter appreciated the fact that she was trying to justify the kissing by means of an engagement ring.

The Teuton Was Impressed.

A young man fresh from college wore as a scarf a jeweled gold pin-nate bag. One day he called the attention of an old German bookseller to it, asking:
 "Isn't that pretty, Dutchy?"
 "Ja, ja," was the reply. "Dot ish der piggest pug on der schmaltz bot-to I haf ever seen."—N. Y. Times.

 "Mamma, the weather is red hot,"
 said a little Harlem boy.
 "It is pretty warm, sonny, but I don't think that it is red hot."

 you know blood is red."—Tammany

WAYS TO GET RICH.

The road to fortune is paved with printer's ink. Success and success are necessary in successful advertising. Get something people want, advertise it wisely and it is sure to pay. The best advertising will not create a demand for that which is not wanted. Success in business is paved by the typesetter and made smooth by the printing press.

Inevitably is the soul of defeat in some advertising. Grain won't grow to fruitfulness the day it is planted.

Thus advice of a bishop to a young preacher applies equally well to an advertiser: "Have something to say. Say it. Stop."

The men who fall and go down in oblivion belong to the class who never advertise, advertise occasionally or only as they think their trade will warrant.

There may be a double meaning in the misplaced sign in South Brooklyn: "For Sale—A stack of forty-five tons. Apply to owner, Third avenue, Bay Ridge."

An advertisement should tell the whole story in the least number of words, carefully selected and easily comprehended. The display should be adapted to the medium used.

To catch the eye is the first requisite in an advertisement; what follows should be so well put together as to excite the reader's interest and claim his attention to the end—Printer's Ink.

PROGRESSIVE WOMEN.

Queen Victoria greatly disliked a visitor who is shy and colors and looks agitated when addressed. At the finish of the interview the queen generally bows slightly or offers her hand, and then turns a little to one side to save the very trying necessity of an entirely backward exit from her presence.

The empress of Austria has her hair shampooed once a month. It is still beautiful, luxuriant and perfectly black, and when let down touches the ground as she stands, and she is tall. It is said the hair wash requires forty eggs, and the other ingredients are obtained from no less than twenty mysterious bottles.

One of the best-known figures in Paris is Mme. Yocer, who, upon the death of her husband, a reporter for the French press, took up his work and has conducted it with unexcelled privacy. In her rounds she is accompanied by a great white poodle called "The Doctor," who permits no one to trifle with his mistress.

One of the authorities on decoration in England is Mrs. Conyns Carr. She is the wife of a successful theatrical manager, and to her ideas on stage decoration and costume he owes much of his success. Mrs. Carr has designed dresses for several of Mr. Irving's plays, and has also designed Miss Terry's chief costumes on wardrobe matters.

AFRICAN COIFFURES.

Styles That Would Hardly Find Favor in Paris.

A recent visitor to Samarra tells of a famous village beauty in that remote region whose headpiece is thus described: "Round her forehead was a band of small pieces of mantles such as were torned in mass of human hair that had been bleached for months in a marsh, with scraps of looking-glasses arranged in front of the whole surrounding with a trail of red humming-bird's feathers."

Dr. Drummond, in his book of African travel, makes mention of the chief's daughter, whose hair, heavily greased, with groundnut oil, was made up into small-sized balls, like black currants, and then divided into patterns—diamonds, circles, and paterines, designed with the skill of a landscape gardener. In these "arrangements" would, in the eyes of civilized artists and connoisseurs, be probably regarded as savage monstrosities, but it is to be doubted whether they are not utterly surpassed by the goldsmith and canny arrangement, by a kingfisher's wing crowned with red shivering glass and sham jewels, both in tawdry splendour and depravity of taste. What is called "barbarism" if found among savages may, after all, be the very height of fashion in Mayfair, though the cheap finery of the Samarra or African is not to be compared by cruelty to the victim nor by gain to the artist.

Big Waterways Projects Ahead.

A plan for supplying Paris with water from Lake Neuchâtel is under consideration by the municipality. It involves the building of an aqueduct 200 miles in length and at an estimated cost of $60,000,000. An earlier plan proposed to use Lake Geneva as a source of supply, the estimated cost being $100,000,000. The engineer of the Neuchâtel plan proposes to tunnel the Jura mountains, and give a head of 300 feet in Paris. One of the greatest engineering works of modern times is the artificial lake impounding the waters of the River Vyrnwy, in Montgomeryshire, to supply Liverpool, sixty-eight miles distant. The lake has a storage capacity of 1,500,000,000 gallons, and power is given to supply water over a certain belt of country on each side of the line. Liverpool is thus placed on an equality, as to water supply, with Glasgow, which has had Lock Katrine under contribution, and with Manchester, which is doing the same with Thirlmere.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

America exported last year to Turkey $45,000 worth, against $2,500,000 imports.

To the French West Indies we exported $3,000, against $1,800,000 of imports.

To Thurot we exported nothing, but from there imported $84,000 worth of goods.

With the South American republic of Bolivia the total trade both ways was only $20,000.

The total value of our exports to Switzerland was only $7,300, against imports aggregating $18,000,000.

From Uruguay our exports amounted to $1,622,000, while we sent only $500,000 worth of merchandise in return.

To the extensive East Indian possessions the French republic we exported $150,000 worth, but imported nothing.

The country with which the least mercantile business was done is Corea, "the hermit nation," as it is called, the imports being $79.

The country with which our exports and imports almost exactly balance is the African republic of Liberia, the margin of difference being only $300.

RELATED OF ROYAL RULERS.

The emperor of Germany sits for his photograph at least once a week.

Queen Victoria, who was once a skillful archer, is now deaf and one of the oldest guilds of bowmen in Europe.

The sultan of Turkey has ordered that no newspapers be published until the afternoon, so the censors will not have to forego their morning nap in order to supervise them.

There is a report that the German emperor will visit Dublin next year for the purpose of making acquaintance with and meeting the Royal dragons, of which he is honorable colonel.

When it comes to costly toys, the latest present to the "boy king" of Spain may be said to cap the climax. It is nothing less than an infant regiment comprising four hundred warriors, ranging in age from eight to eight years.

DON'T—DO NOT.

Don't read this if you expect to find the old stereotyped advice unamused.

Don't go to bed with cold feet unless they have been pickled and taken invariably.

Don't lie on the left side too much—the right side all you can, as it pushes better.

Don't jump out of bed immediately on awakening in the morning, but this advice is unnecessary. No sane man ever did it.

Don't eat between meals—if you get hungry fix it to the nearest officer or whenever you get hungry.

Don't take long walks on an empty stomach. If you want to walk on a stomach all try and find a full one, which is softer than an empty one. A stomach is not a very good place for a long walk, anyway—Texas Stripes.

STRONG MEN OF OLD.

In the Good Old Days There Were Lots of Strong Men and Many to the Fore.

Philip, count of Hohenberg, was so strong that he could drive a nail into the wall with one of his fingers. Says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch: A Spaniard named Polo, who emigrated to Naples in 1255, drove nails into the wall with his forehead. Potowka, a Polish colonel, marched horseback with his hand. Valentine Einsiedel, count of Schwarzenberg, and Carl Leutnow, a Mecklenburg nobleman, did the same thing with ease. The latter could carry a ton of wine and throw silver coins with his finger. A Russian looked into the edge imbedded itself in the bark. Frederick of Hainzow, who lived at Limburg in 1363, could lift an arm (forty English gallons) of wine and drink from the bung-hole. John, count of Ziegenhain of Hesse (1453), pushed aside six arms of wine, wagon and all, which obstructed the road over which he was riding. Count Siegmund of Burgundy, carried seven adults on his shoulders and walked about with them for several minutes.

FADS IN JEWELRY.

The fashionable yachting pin of yore has given place to the belt buckle. Or, a plain, dull-surfaced silver, across which is enameled a dainty little flag, are the latest.

A FINE thread of white metal which passes through the hair and holds in place a hollow pair of butterfly wings, beautifully enameled, has captured the feminine heart.

There is a passion for any form of tiera-like hair ornaments at this season. The latest sleeve links are long and wisp-shaped, the white surface being sprinkled with the tiniest of silver stars.

Tattooing Unlived.

A French physician, who has found that the majority of deaths upon the battlefield arise from the bleeding to death of the wound and while waiting for the surgeon, proposes that each soldier in the French army shall be tattooed where the arteries of his body are and how to arrest hemorrhages from them. In doing this he has found a use for that most useless of arts—tattooing; a small figure of some kind being tattooed over each artery, so that the soldier can at once see where to apply the ligature.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Eael Evolutions.

I was pleased to see "Anglers" come to the front on the railroad question, as he did in last week's issue, and I hope our people will think of what he has said and what he may yet say on that subject, for he has had the experience of living where there were railroads, also where there was none; and he, like all others who have enjoyed the advantages of railroads agree, and say that if we want our country to prosper we should in every reasonable way encourage the building of railroads or any public enterprise that will bring money among us, and I suppose that every citizen in Morgan county will admit that we would be benefited by the building of this road. The question then is, how much will we be benefited? This depends on how much we need it. Not many years ago our county did not have any steam flour and saw mills and lumber for building purposes was very expensive, the hauling frequently costing as much as the lumber. Our roads are bad enough now, but then they were much worse. If we got any flour we had to haul it over those rough roads, over rocks and mountains a distance of forty miles from Mt. Sterling, requiring from three to four days to make the trip. We can buy flour at the mill here to-day for about what the hauling cost us then. Finally some enterprising men came among us and commenced "talking mill," and some people in different localities offered inducements in labor, timber, land, etc. I well remember how men talked about the matter. They said "if those men want to build mills they can build them without our help, for we will have to pay them for all they do for us."

Those same fellows are now bitter against the "railroad tax," saying: "If we vote the tax we will have to pay for all shipping just the same."

Now this class of citizens ought to have to carry their wheat on their backs to Mt. Sterling for every pound of flour that they use. They cannot see, because they never try the advantages of those things till they are obtained by the efforts of others. Other people are opposed to the tax because they think they will not be directly benefited.

Reader, if you are opposed to this tax, you should remember that if your neighbors and the people of your county are benefited and prosper, you can get your part of it, but if your people have no money and no way to get it, you have a poor show to get any. As in the matter of mills, so in the matter of railroads. If we need them we can afford to offer inducements to get them.

Our floating timber that can be marketed profitably is all gone, but we have unknown wealth in our forests of hard timber, tan bark, etc., but as we cannot ship it many thousands dollars' worth of it is yearly rolled into log heaps and burned. It is said that we have the largest body of fine coal in the world, and then how long will it take to work out all the building stone there is in this county? But all this amounts to nothing and brings no money into our county unless we get transportation.

Then don't you think we need a railroad, and need it bad? Then be sure to vote for the tax and get your neighbor to "go and do likewise."

This week.] Mrs. Nannie Bays and her sister Bonnie Nickell, came in a few days ago from Illinois on a visit.

Charles H. Shepard, representing the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of New York, was in town last week.

A. B. Pieratt, W. M. of Ezel Lodge No. 550, F. and A. M., is attending the Grand Lodge at Louisville this week.

Dr. J. F. Lockhart, W. J. Seliz, J. M. Pieratt and Miss Lizzie Pieratt left here last week for Lexington and other points.

Our "little jeweler" last week sold to Miss Annie L. Pieratt one of the prettiest little watches that we know of in the mountains.

If our stock men get sale for all the stock that passed down last week, it would certainly indicate quite an improvement in the markets.

Maj. W. J. Seliz, representing W. M. Kerr & Co., was in town last week. He is one of those hustling drummers that always sells to our merchants.

J. S. Nickell now owns the farm that was once owned by B. F. Cockrill. While Mr. Cockrill owned and operated the farm he prophesied that at some future time this section of country would be visited by an unusual storm, and he accordingly planted a large grove of pines and cedars around and about his beautiful residence as a protection from this storm. Time with its many changes passed on, Mr. Cockrill sold the farm and the prophecy was forgotten until this summer during a terrible electric storm a wire fence on this farm near the residence was struck by lightning, bursting every post of which we made mention in a previous letter some months ago. This caused some to think of the prophecy, but that was not the fulfillment. From the first of this month the signs were more convincing, and the old prophet was joined by a number of others. They told us that a hailstorm which had visited West Virginia was coming this way and would reach here in full force by Wednesday of last week. As the time drew near we saw that their words were true. Soon the clouds were over us, the people ran to and fro, the hearts of the tender ones gave way to a battle of fears, strong men looked red, realizing that some one would be taken off perhaps never to return. But the calm observer could see the silver lining of those clouds, which was evidence that an unusual bright sun would follow, increasing the prosperity and happiness of all. But as the clouds were rolling by a hailstone weighing (it was said) one hundred and forty pounds lodged in that beautiful residence among the pines, and Miss Minnie, the charming daughter of Mr. Nickell, being pleased with this new visitor, is keeping the same as a souvenir of that wonderful event. BLUET.

Our Sabbath school is all that we could wish for—only an increase of numbers. J. T. Sexton and A. C. Swango have gone to Louisville to attend the Grand Lodge of Masons.

R. A. Childers left last Monday for Byron, Kansas, for a few weeks visit to relatives and friends.

E. B. May and little son Carl, are on the sick list this week. Misses Maud and Arty Dye are also sick.

A. B. Pieratt, of Ezel, took passage at this port Sunday morning on the steamer John Cravens for Louisville.

Bro. Cooper, if you want to hear of a boom that will boom long and loud, say you will make the race to represent Morgan and Wolfe counties in the next session of the Legislature.

Since our last communication to THE HERALD we find scores of men favoring the railroad tax, but the candidates, who are trembling in their boots, are afraid to say whether they are for or against the tax. We feel sorry for them. Declare yourself for what you think will be beneficial to your county, bit or mis.

Our efficient County Superintendent of Schools, Dr. B. F. Carter, visited our school last Friday and delivered an address that was listened to with marked attention by teachers, students and patrons. The Doctor congratulated the district on having procured the services of the Misses Cunn and Follenchae as teachers. He is certainly the right man in the right place, and our people will try very hard to induce him to serve another term. WINGLESS.

A. T. Combs was here last week shaking hands with his many friends.

W. J. Hollon and John Miller have just returned from Morgan county.

Robert L. Miller and A. B. Hutton came up Sunday to see their best girls.

W. T. Swango, of your place, bought 30 head of cattle from J. R. Elkins for $4.50.

A. J. Hollon left Thursday with a nice bunch of young cattle for the Mt. Sterling market.

Rev. H. F. Dunegan passed through here Wednesday, en route to Lee county to hold a meeting.

John B. Hollon, of Red River, was with his many friends and relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Frank Dunn had just as well go to clubbing a sapling, for his legs are too short to run with G. S. Terrill, of Lane. SHAGBAIL.

"So Clean" is the finest pure white soap ever introduced here. It is better than Cashmere Bouquet for the toilet, superior to Ivory for fine laundry, and ahead of Sapollo for the kitchen. One cake, 10c; 2 for 15c; 4 for 25c. Sold at this office only. †

A Beautiful and Brilliant Wedding.

At 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Oct. 10th, at the spacious and elegant country residence of John S. Nickell, was celebrated a beautiful and impressive home wedding. The contracting parties were Mr. T. W. Hall, of Weston, West Va., and Miss Minnie Nickell, of Ezel, Morgan county, Ky., Elder J. A. Howard officiating.

The groom is one of the leading and promising young men of Lewis county, West Va., and the bride a most charming lady, a favorite in society, with a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and the only daughter of John S. Nickell, one of the substantial men of Morgan county.

After congratulations and good wishes of invited guests the wedding party repaired to the dining hall, where the nuptial feast was spread.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale departed on the 4:30 train at Mt. Sterling for an extended wedding tour to Niagara Falls, New York City, Philadelphia, and other points.

May their future pathway through life be one uninterrupted season of joy, happiness and prosperity is the wish of their many friends and acquaintances.

Save the Children

By Purifying Their Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Pure Blood, Cures Scrofula, Etc.

"My experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla has been very effective. My little girl, five years old, had for four years a bad skin disease. Her arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. She would scratch the eruptions as though it gave relief, and tear out the sores."

Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla caused the eruptions to heal and the sores peeled off, after which the skin became soft and smooth. As a family medicine we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal and I recommend it." W. L. KING, Bluff Dale, Tex.
